Plot A drunken college student named Vincent, played by DiBlasi, wakes up in the trunk of a car in a junkyard. His face has been cut off, and he is dressed in flannel pajamas. Vincent begins to hear voices coming from inside the trunk. He discovers that a deranged man, Ted, has been buried alive with a shotgun. Vincent manages to escape and tries to get back to his dorm room in Troy, New York. On the way, he spots the same brown car with a quarter of its bumper missing, and follows it. The two men argue. The other driver explains the situation to Vincent, but he has already lost interest. He asks for a ride in exchange for his phone number, and Ted reluctantly agrees. The two men soon fall asleep, but when Ted awakes he shoots Vincent's phone, leaving him stranded in the country. Troy is a relatively peaceful city where people go to live a quiet and peaceful life. It is also a town where weird things happen, and the two men then meet up with a man in a mental hospital, who used to work for the sheriff's department
