The Best Of The Gulf Coast Triathlon Series: The Sasco Grand Prix Half Ironman St. Pete, Florida is about to be the epicenter of triathlon for the 2011 season. With the most recent addition of a half-ironman race course in the city, The Sasco Grand Prix Half-Ironman has brought both national caliber triathletes and diehard local competitors to the city. With a course that crosses over the city's renowned Pinellas Trail, those planning to do the Grand Prix will experience a race that is both challenging and fun. The race will be held on Saturday, June 30th at the Jim Pattison Athletic Complex with a little under 2,000 competitors currently registered. Though the race was originally scheduled for Sunday, the construction of the finish area meant that part of the course would run through the TECO tower in downtown St. Pete. On Wednesday, it was announced that the start and finish for the race would be moved to the indoor facility. There will be a 2,000 meter swim, a 112 kilometer bike, and a full marathon run. Those who decide to enter the race will make their way to the water for the 11:30 am start of the race. There will be a swim clock in place. Since the race has been set up to start with the swim, those entering the water to take part in the race will have no specific start time. Swimmers who are under the qualifying age for the US Open Championship, however, have until 11:30 to be classified for the race.

Just before the start of the swim, the planes will go off and the race will officially start. The swim is a 2,000 meter course that includes the Pinellas Trail. The swim start is at mid-lake, and from there competitors will head out into the Gulf of Mexico. After the swim, the race will head on the bike course. The bike course is the most innovative half-ironman 0cc13bf012

.Q: Is there a way to enforce a structure when calling a Python module from a C function? I was wondering if there is a way to do the following: I have a C program which has an external Python module included. For instance the c code is something like the following:

```
#include <Python.h> int main() {
    PyObject *output_package =
PyImport_AddModule("output_package");
    PyObject *arg1 = PyInt_FromLong(12);
    PyObject *arg2 = PyInt_FromLong(15);
    PyObject *output_module = PyObject_CallObject(output_package, arg1, arg2); Py_DECREF(arg1);
    Py_DECREF(arg2);
    Py_DECREF(output_package);
    Py_DECREF(output_module); return 0; }
```

---

Now I wanted to compile the c code into
